

Ricardo Nunez

Ricardo Nunez, a native of Mexico, is a dynamic facilitator with over 20 years of experience providing learning solutions, consultancy, and facilitation to individuals, companies, and organizations in the Americas. From the early years in his professional career, Ricardo has been exposed to global markets, having worked with multicultural and multifunctional teams. He has led teams in sales, customer service, public relations, and operations in both North America and Latin America.

As a facilitator and consultant, Ricardo develops and delivers training programs, along with providing consulting and learning solutions to help optimize organizational effectiveness and talent development, commercial relationships, best practices in communication, optimal global business, and social practices.

Ricardo has developed strong skills in understanding contextual elements of day-to-day challenges and opportunities in the workplace, having facilitated programs in North America, Latin America, the Caribbean, Europe, and Asia for multinational groups and individuals. The scope of subjects facilitated by Ricardo include Global leadership, leading change, business effectiveness, diversity and inclusion, team building, conflict resolution, negotiation, managing global and/or virtual teams, effective management across cultures, and intercultural training.

Kirkpatrick
Partners

The Standard for Leveraging and Validating Talent Investments™